NATIONAL TRIBAL STEERING COMMITTEE FOR INJURY PREVENTION

Dedicated to reducing the risk of injuries in all American Indian and Alaskan Native Nations and to serve the needs of all twelve Indian Health Service Areas.

TRIBAL STEERING COMMITTEE

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- Foster positive relationships and collaboration between all levels of injury prevention programs.
- Advise and make recommendations about the development, design, and evaluation of national injury prevention initiatives and programs.
- Stimulate and strengthen tribal injury prevention programs.
- Advocate for additional resources.

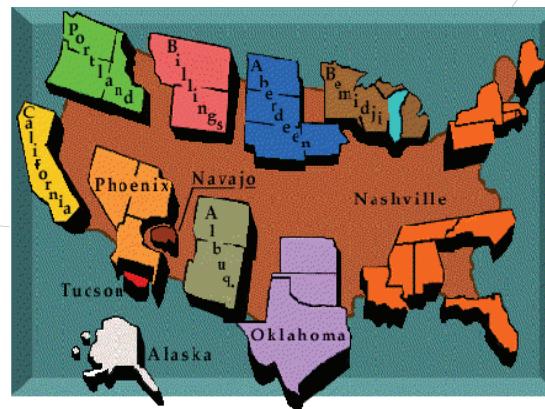

TSC enhances the ability of Tribes to address injury problems in their communities

OBJECTIVES

- Raise awareness of and support for injury prevention activities in Native American communities.
- Enhance the ability of Tribes to address injury problems in their communities.

MEMBERSHIP

The TSC is made up of 12 tribal members, representing each of the Indian Health Service Areas.

TSC aids tribes in their community programming efforts.

CORE ROLES OF A TSC MEMBER

- Work with Tribes to obtain input and provide information. Encourage Tribes to make injury prevention a priority – and place it on the top ten list of Tribal Health Priorities.
- Work with IHS Area Specialists, e.g., during the IHS Area budget formulation process.
- Participate on a regional and national level via conference calls and national TSC meetings.

TSC works with tribes to build tribal capacity and provide training.
